

Integrated-Medical-Education

Leadership
Collaboration
Excellence Expansion
Integration
Innovation
Partnerships
STRATEGIC Growth
EXCELLENCE Evidence-Based
Learner Centred
Scholarship ENGAGEMENT

Integrated medical education (IME) represents a project of transformational change. Our project is to change the way that our learners, full and community-affiliated hospitals, faculty members and staff think about – and engage with – the delivery of medical education at the University of Toronto. Please visit the OIME’s website at www.oime.utoronto.ca to learn more about the program, as well as resources for community-based hospitals, offices, preceptors, learners, and administrators.

What is IME?

IME vs. Distributed Medical Education (DME)

Information for Faculty Preceptors

Academic appointments & promotions
Awards for teaching excellence
Preceptor payments and benefits of being a preceptor
Continuing education and faculty development

Uoft’s Community-Based Hospitals

Overview, maps and key contacts for each of the University of Toronto’s 19 community affiliated hospitals

OIME Publications

OIME Newsletters and Annual Report

Key Contacts

To help you navigate through the UT Faculty of Medicine

